

Ricardo TAMURA Tenor

Ricardo Tamura is born in Brazil, he started taking voice lessons at the age of 19, but singing was then just a hobby, and voice lessons were to "be able to sing in the shower, without torturing the neighbour". He graduated in Geology and Physics from the University of São Paulo and started a promising scientific career, which culminated with an invitation to join the 1st International Space University at the prestigious Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT).

Later on he met in New York the legendary soprano Ms. Licia Albanese, which changed his life, as she also told him to become an opera singer. Shortly after, he was granted a scholarship to the Juilliard School of Music, further studies in Siena and Busetto (under Carlo Bergonzi). He had his professional debut in Kassel in "Maske in Blau". Since then, he has appeared in about 20 theatres in Germany.

He had his first performances outside Germany in Split and Zagreb, he made his first radio broadcast with Alfredo Keil's opera "Serrana" from Semperoper Dresden.

He sang "Carmen" and "Tosca" in Düsseldorf, "Aida" and "Samson et Dalila" in Gelsenkirchen, "Faust", "Aida", "Don Carlos" in Nuremberg, "Land des Lächelns" in Münster, "Turandot" at Volksoper Vienna, "Tabarro" / "Pagliacci" in Hagen, "Boheme" in Hannover, he was heard with his first Otello in Osnabrück and with concerts in Verona.

More recently he sang "Manon Lescaut" in Osnabrück, Otello in Gera, "Ballo in maschera" in Würzburg, concerts at Festspielhaus Bregenz, "Carmen" in Hannover, "Manon Lescaut" and "Ariadne auf Naxos" in Gelsenkirchen and the Unicef Gala in Cologne. He was heard in Arena di Verona with concerts, in Cardiff with "Ariadne auf Naxos", in Gelsenkirchen with "Manon Lescaut", in Kassel as Otello, in Gera with "Manon Lescaut", in Wuppertal as Rodolfo, in Hannover as Otello and Calaf, in Schwerin as Canio, in Osnabrück as Radames and in Solothurn as Bacchus.

Recent and future engagements through the 2024/25 season include "Ballo in maschera" in Wuppertal, concerts in Essen, Cologne and Munich, Calaf in Erfurt, Tannhäuser in Zwickau, Erik in Belem (Brazil), Turiddu and Canio in Hannover, Otello in Hagen, "Traviata" in Nuremberg and his successful debut at MET as Cavaradossi. He sang Turiddu/Canio in Klagenfurt, Don José in Würzburg, Turiddu/Canio and "Manon Lescaut" in Hannover, concerts in Tokyo, Calaf at Wichita Opera. Moreover, he was heard as Don Carlos, Riccardo and Turiddu at MET, with "Misa Tango" in Tel Aviv, "Manon Lescaut" in Livorno und Rovigo and as Florestan in Sao Paulo. He is singing Tannhäuser in Chemnitz, Cavaradossi in Koblenz, Gala concerts in Taiwan, Don José in Nuremberg, Calaf in Düsseldorf and Leipzig, a new production of "Tosca" in Osnabrück, Rienzi in Kaiserslautern, "Manon Lescaut" in Dessau, "Tosca" in Görlitz and Otello, "Tosca" and "La muette de Portici" in Kassel.